PROFILE

I have over 2 year of experience in Frontend Development.
During this time, I have both taught students and completed various real-world projects.
I'm proficient in JavaScript and React, capable of working independently on real projects from start to finish.
I'm also skilled in working professionally with AI tools, which allows me to save time and complete tasks more efficiently.
I'm always eager to learn and adopt new frontend technologies to continuously improve my skills and stay up to date.
